A day, a scene. That's the proposition of Tatsuya Tanaki, a Japanese artist and photographer. His website Miniature Calendar \(http://miniature-calendar.com/\) is updated since 2011, with daily pictures showing people in situations that use little objects we know but have never used as a theater scene before. His overwhelming imagination transforms food, suhis, phones, etc in wonderfull settings for the mind to escape.

We all once wished to have a pic nic under the fresh shadow of broccoli trees, or swim in an inflatable doughnut... Thanks to this curious calendar you will be able to escape every day in these fascinating pictures! Now is the time to put some fun in your day !
