@didiforu

In a little over a month, Taipei City will host the 29th Summer Universiade Games, which will run from August 30 to September 9. To build excitement over the coming competition, the interiors of the MRT (Metropolitan Rapid Transit) trains have been decorated in themes to match some of the major sporting events.

Taipei's subway cars are now sporting themes such as track and field, soccer, baseball, basketball, and athletics throwing events. Photos of some of these new MRT themes have started to surface on social media.

swimming pool in particular almost disturbingly realistic.
